RIGHTS ISSUE

European Metals Holdings Limited (“EMH”, “European Metals” or “the Company”) successfully completed a fully underwritten rights issue in November 2014.

Approximately $1.1 million was raised via the issue of 21,942,860 new CDI’s at an issue price of 5 cents per CDI. Each new CDI carried a right to an attaching option with an exercise price of 10 cents expiring June 2016.

Proceeds of the issue will be used to complete the current Scoping Study on the Company’s flagship Cinovec Tin, Tungsten and Lithium Project in the Czech Republic and for working capital.

FINAL ASSAY RESULTS RECEIVED FOR METALLURGICAL DRILL HOLES

The Company received final assay results for all analytical samples collected and submitted from the recent drilling program in early November 2014. The program consisted of three diamond holes for a total of 940.1 metres. Wide zones of Sn, W and Li mineralization were intersected in altered granite and the geology was as anticipated from the resources model.

Individual samples (typically 1-1.5m wide) returned up to 1.76% Sn, 0.77% W, 1.26% Li₂O, 62.7 g/t Ag, 0.43% Cu, 0.07% Mo, 0.43% Pb, 2.38% Zn.

Better intercepts include:

STRATEGIC RELATIONSHIP TO TEST COMMERCIAL POTENTIAL OF CINOVEC LITHIUM RESOURCE

The tin and tungsten mineralisation at Cinovec lies coincident with lithium mineralisation. As such, during the processing of this tin mineralisation, a waste tail containing significant quantities of lithium is produced. This lithium was historically concentrated by magnetic means to produce a lithium concentrate which was then used to produce a lithium carbonate based on a sulphate processing route.

Cobre Montana NL (ASX:CXB) through its alliance with Perth Based Strategic Metallurgy (Refer to ASX announcement 11 November 2014) has the ability to use its licensing rights, and knowhow to extract lithium from the micas that occur within the mineralized zones at Cinovec.

The CXB technology not only provides a low power process for lithium carbonate production, it has the added benefits of recovering other metals from the mica, in particular potassium, which can be recovered as potassium sulphate, a valuable component of fertilizers. It is also possible to recover rare metals from the mica.

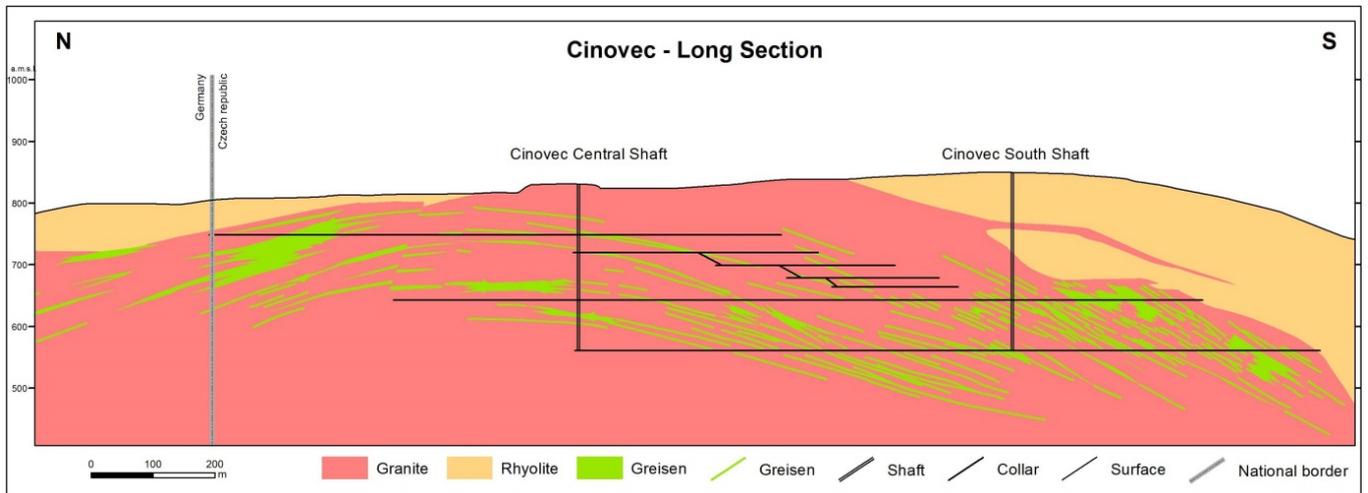

Based on these advantages, EMH has entered into a MOU with CXB which will allow Perth-based CXB to undertake test work over the next six months that will culminate in the presentation of a commercial development proposal to EMH.

The terms of the agreement will see CXB include in its report, the ways in which the combined expertise of both companies can be optimised to enable more complete exploitation of the zinnwaldite mineralisation to produce lithium carbonate for the rapidly expanding global lithium battery industry.

Laboratory testing of the Cinovec feed material will commence in January 2015.

FURTHER INFORMATION

Cinovec is an historic tin mine incorporating a significant undeveloped tin resource with by-product potential including tungsten, lithium, rubidium, scandium, niobium and tantalum. The JORC compliant Inferred Resource for the Cinovec deposit totals 28.1Mt grading 0.37% Sn, for 103,970 tonnes of contained tin, which makes it one of the largest undeveloped tin deposits in the world. Cinovec also hosts a partly-overlapping hard rock lithium deposit with a total JORC compliant Inferred Resource of 36.8Mt @ 0.8% Li₂O. The resource estimates were based on exploration completed by the Czechoslovakian Government in the 1970s and 1980s, including 83,000m of drilling and 21.5km of underground exploration drifting. The deposit appears amenable to bulk mining techniques and has had over 400,000 tonnes trial mined as a sub-level open stope. Historical metallurgical test work, including the processing of the trial mine ore through the previous on-site processing plant, indicates the ore can be treated using simple gravity methods with good recovery rates for tin and tungsten in oxide minerals of approximately 75%. Cinovec is very well serviced by infrastructure, with a sealed road adjacent to the deposit, rail lines located 5km north and 8km south of the deposit and an active 22kV transmission line running to the mine. As the deposit lies in an active mining region, it has strong community support.

Project Location

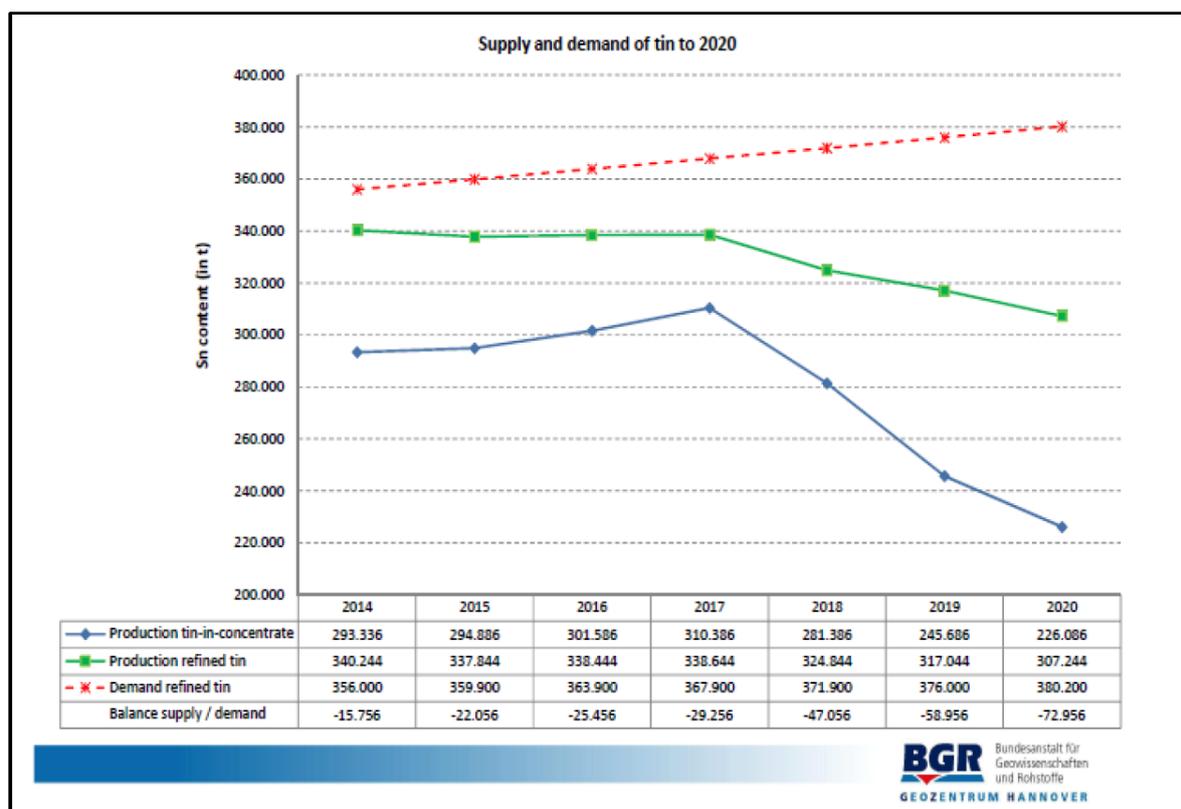

Czech Republic is ideally located at the centre of the European Union. It shares one of its borders with Germany which alone represents one third of its exports. The mining code is well established and the excellent infrastructure, electricity and communication networks create a sound environment for mining activities. Politically stable and with a high income economy, the Czech Republic is also a Member of the European Union.

Tin Market Outlook

Despite some mild weakness over 2014, the outlook for the price of tin continues to appear to be strong.

Germany's Federal Institute for Geosciences and Natural Resources ("BGR") has forecast an impending widening of demand over supply that, in its analysis, suggests a tin price approaching US$30,000/t may be expected in the near future.
